ORGANIZATIONS

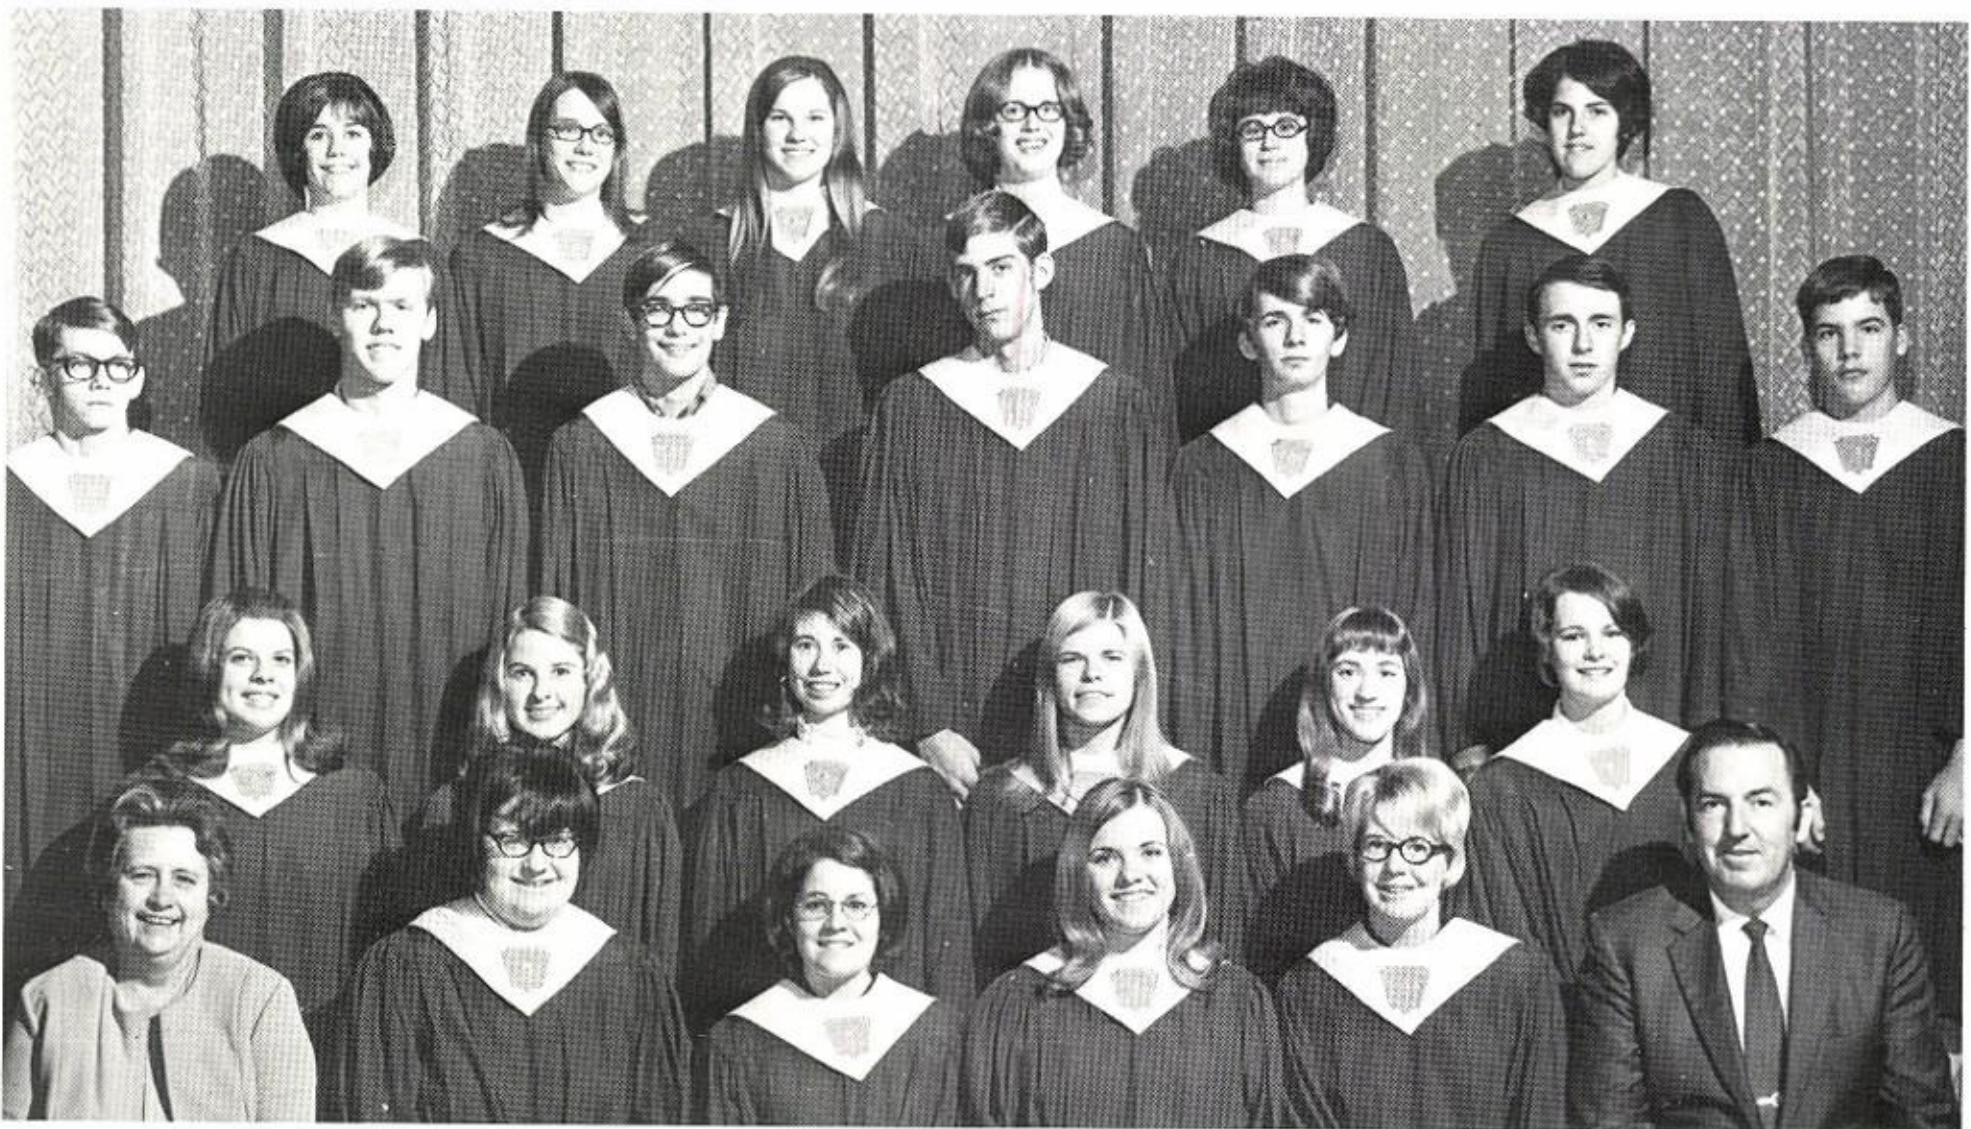

*A time to break down,
and a time to build up.*

N.H.S.

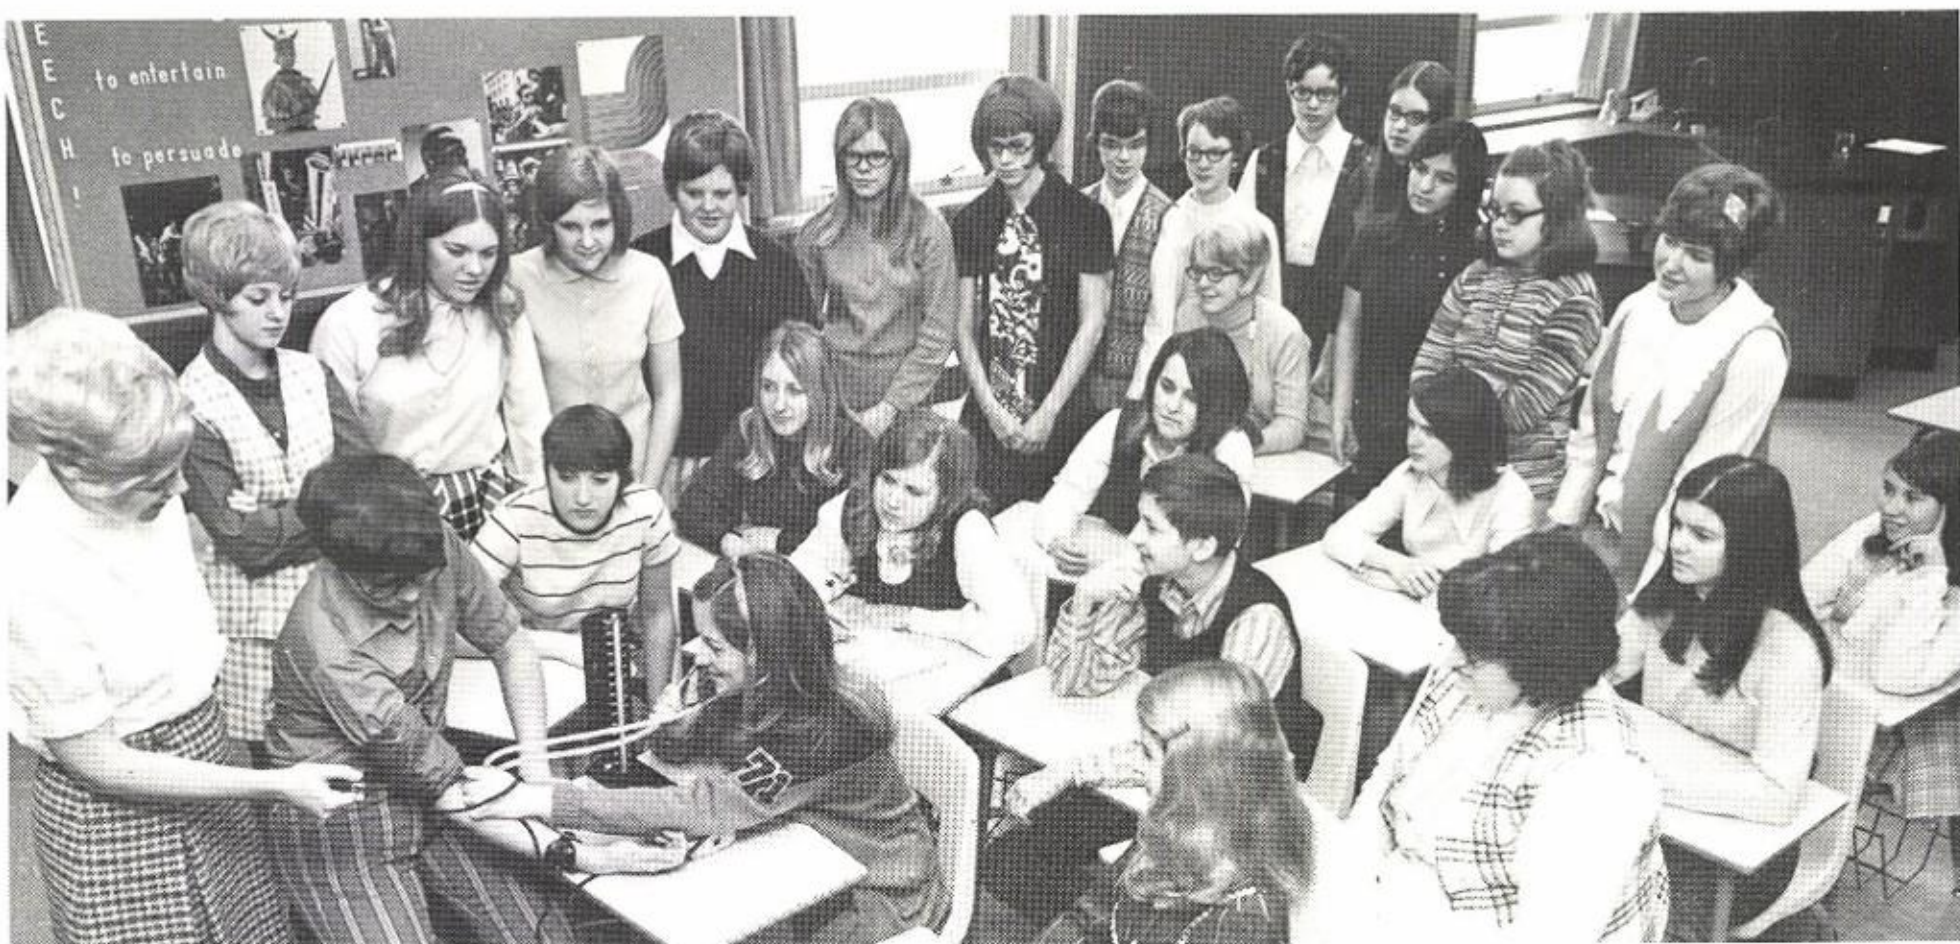

This year the members of the National Honor Society employed their qualities of scholarship, service, character, and leadership to make Serena High School better. The members cheerfully served as office assistants and handled ticket sales at basketball games and wrestling matches. Money was earned by sponsoring a bake sale held during the lunch modules. The NHS conducted the annual Easter Seal Drive for Serena Township and a Personal Needs Drive for the Dixon State Hospital. In March, twenty-one members were inducted into NHS at a candlelight ceremony. In May the forty-four member group was honored at a banquet in Joliet sponsored by the Board of Education.

FFA

To begin the year 1970-71, the FFA officers took a trip to the annual FFA Convention at Kansas City. Chapter projects this year included a visit to the International Livestock Show, the annual Purebred Boar and Gilt Sale, co-sponsoring the Sweetheart Ball, the annual Parent-Son Banquet, and participation in many Section VII contests. The Serena chapter received first place in the sectional Program of Work contest, and the Livestock Judging Team received a first in the section. The Dairy Judging Team rated superior with Jerry Huss being highest scoring individual. Mark Wright placed third in the Public Speaking Contest, was Sectional Star Farmer, and applied for the State Farmer Award. Mary Stetcher was honored by being chosen as the Section VII Sweetheart Queen.

F.H.A.

Serena's active FHA began the year in August with a picnic for Freshmen at the Sheridan Pit. To carry out the 1970-71 theme, Decisions That Count, new and old members participated in the worthwhile programs presented at the monthly meetings. Special activities included the FHA-FFA Skating Party, a Senior Citizen Tea and a Parent Potluck. Food was sent to the boys in Viet Nam as a service project. In December, the seventy members prepared numerous articles for the Christmas Bazaar. The spring was brightened by the colorful outfits constructed and modeled by the FHA members. Finally the year ended with a picnic for prospective members.

French Club

The 1971 French Club officers were Collin Varness, Pres.; Ruth Larsen, V-Pres.; and Virginia Folkes, Sec. Miss McLennan, the advisor, arranged for some members to see THE PASTORAL SYMPHONY, a French film shown at IVCC. The highlight of the year though was when the French Club and the Fine Arts Class traveled to Chicago and visited the Art Institute and then ate a "tres bon" meal at the Bistro.

Lettermen's Club

Varsity cross country lettermen include Tim Woods, Mickey Pfau, Jeff Milligan, Dave Skelton, Brian Woods, and Bill Stechman, John Nitiss and Joe Marshall received freshman letters.

Jerry McLachlan, who led the baseball team with a .310 batting average, received the Most-Valuable-Player Award along with his varsity letter. Other varsity letters were given to Kim Nelson, Bill Matison, Dave Stafford, Greg Hitchins, Rick Battles, Rich Tirevold, Kim Schnitz, Randy Hill and Paul Finley. Freshmen-Sophomore winners include Ted Tirevold, Mike Tipton, Mark Adams, Kenny Larson, Steve Richards, Dale Skelton, Rick Stechman, Don Brown, John Marshall and Scott Brooks.

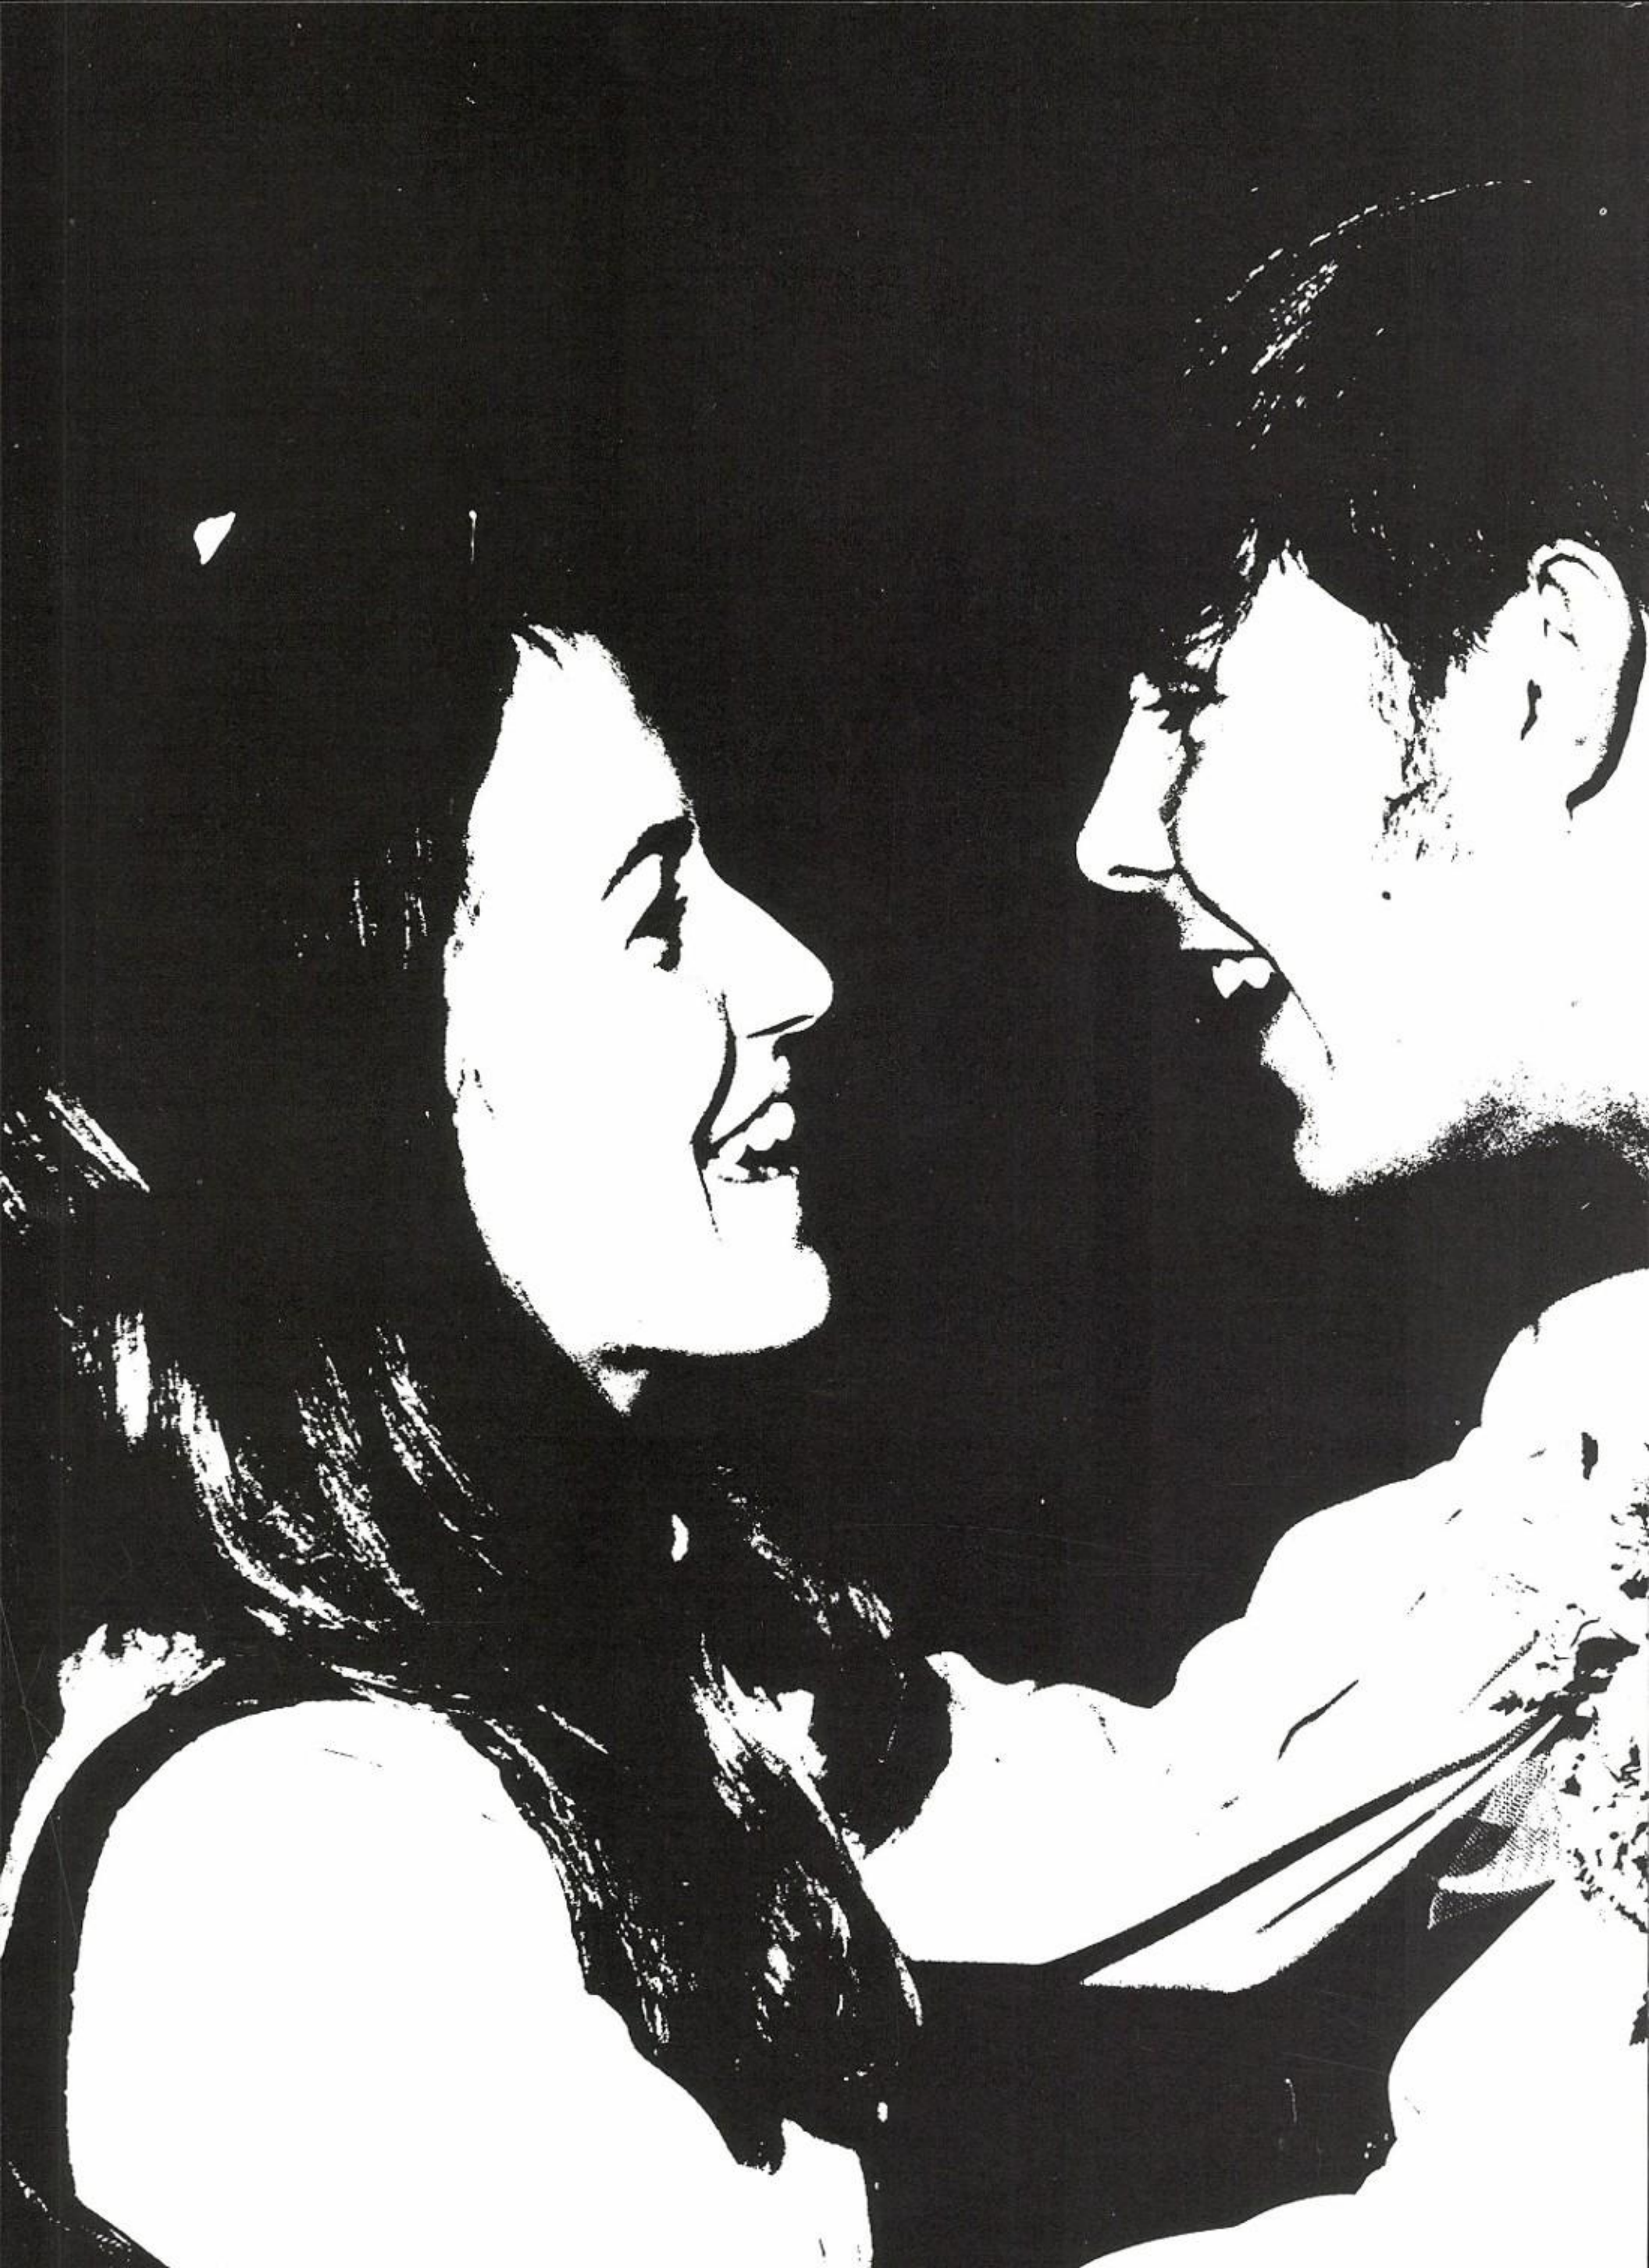

In basketball, Kim Nelson received the Most-Valuable-Player Award while Dave Stafford was honored as Senior Athlete of the Year. Mark Wright was named best defensive player. Paul Finley received the Best Free Throw Award for his .744 percentage. All four boys received varsity letters along with Jerry McLachlan, Greg Hitchins, Rick Battles and Mike Bartels.

In Golf, Kim Nelson, Rick Battles, Gerry Nelson, Chuck Strubler and Robin Lawry were named varsity letter winners. Freshman-Sophomore winners were Mike Bartels and Kevin Foreman.

Cast and Crew

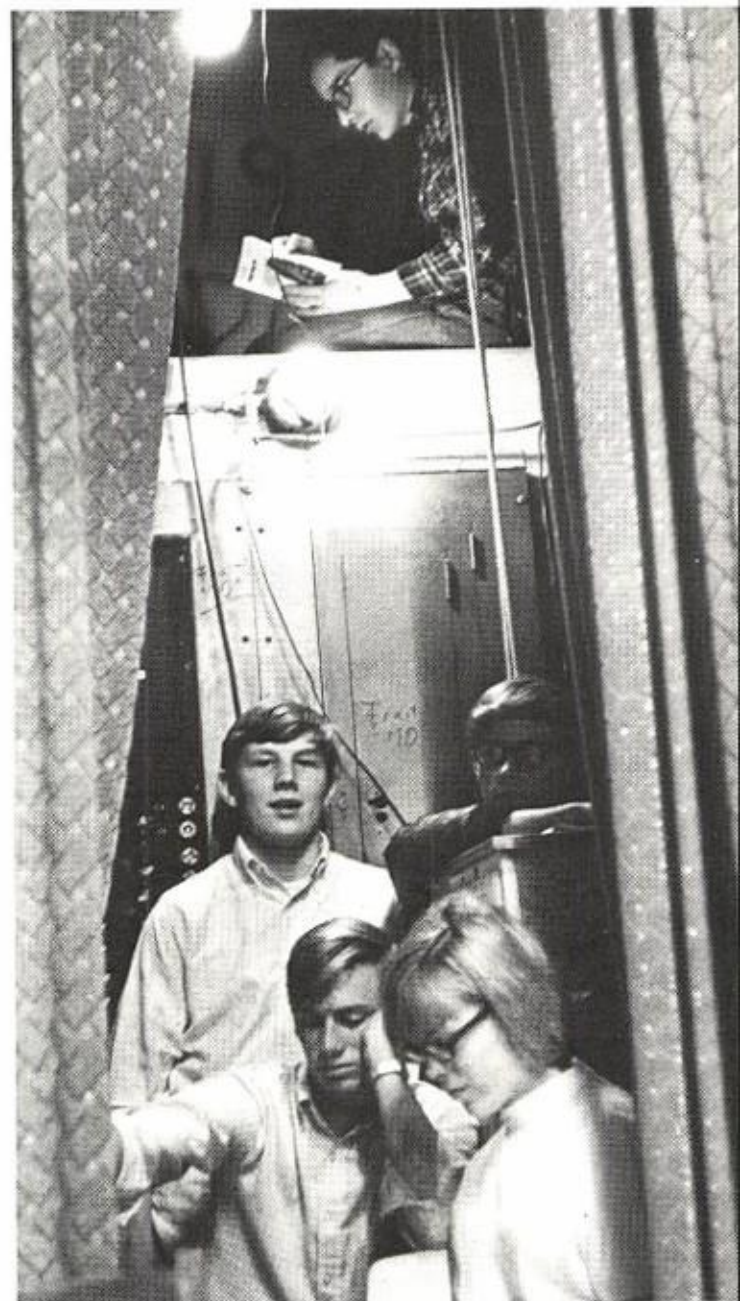

TWELVE ANGRY MEN, a high-powered drama, deals with the guilt or innocence of a boy on trial for the murder of his father. The routine verdict of guilty is blown apart by a surprising single vote of not guilty. Juror number eight holds the opposing opinion and proceeds in double-checking all facts before making a final judgment. Eleven guilty votes and one not guilty vote is slowly reversed: eleven not guilty and one guilty. The final dramatic scene shows the last angry man crumble to defeat: NOT GUILTY

The Senior Class Presents:

Spoon River Anthology

by Edgar Lee Masters

SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY is not a play in the usual sense. For one thing, the characters are all dead. For another, there is not one but many stories. Each character rises from his grave and tells about his life. Each character is honest. In death what could be gained by lying?

But why choose SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY for a senior play? Two reasons are that it has proved popular during its long run on Broadway and that it allows many students to participate.

Another reason is that SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY is an acknowledged masterpiece. It has been translated into seventy languages and occupies a place in every high school and college anthology of American literature. While the production of a play is an education in speech and in theatre, the production of a masterpiece is more educational in that it is also an education in theater.

Still a further reason for choosing SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY is that it deals with a life we know. Edgar Lee Masters, a Chicago lawyer who died in 1950, wrote this book on the lives of people he knew in his boyhood homes of Lewistown and Petersburg, small western Illinois farming communities. Though most of the characters lived around the turn of the century, they seem amazingly contemporary. Perhaps times have changed. But men have not.

But the most important reason for producing SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY is that it makes us examine our souls. The great teachers from Socrates to Jesus have insisted that the basic concern of man ought to be his soul. Edgar Lee Masters, reflecting the teachings of Jesus, tries to show how souls are lost through their blindness to other souls. Griffy the Cooper says that men judge each other by appearances. Certainly this is true of many characters. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pantier hate each other. Aner Clute, a young girl who has an unfortunate love affair with an older man, Lucius Atherton, is forced to earn her living selling drinks in a bar because people label her as an evil woman. Jeremy Carlisle concludes, "Passer-by, sin beyond any sin is the sin of blindness of souls to other souls."

But SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY also shows how souls are lost through blindness to God. Willard Fluke believes his daughter's blindness is God's punishment for his sin. But Willard's daughter, Lois Spears, is the happiest of women. Willard has not learned that the God of justice is also a God of love and that love forgives. Schroeder the fisherman believes that life is dog-eat-dog, that man is made this way, that there is no God who cares. But The Village Atheist, dying of cancer, realizes that to deny God is "to live through the senses and think through the senses only;" that God is real, that God is love to the man who can leap beyond the senses to faith.

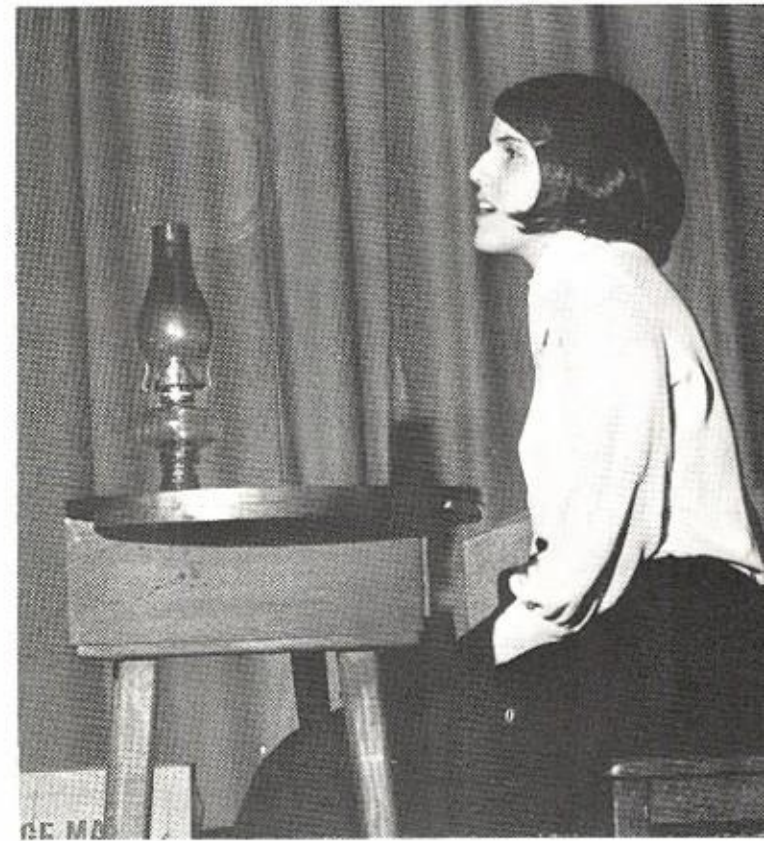

A. H. Anderson, Play Director.

The varsity ended the '70-'71 basketball season with a 9--14 record, a jump from the year before. It was an exciting year sparked by great hopes, crowd backing, and of course, downfalls. The team was composed of five seniors, three juniors, and five sophomores, four of which also played J.V.

It was an exciting season along with the week at N.C.A. summer camp at Illinois State University--Normal, Illinois in June. The girls came home with one red and four blue ribbons plus a "spirit stick" for one of their night performances.

The Proud Coach Norman Neuges

"We're Number 1!"

"Winning is great!"

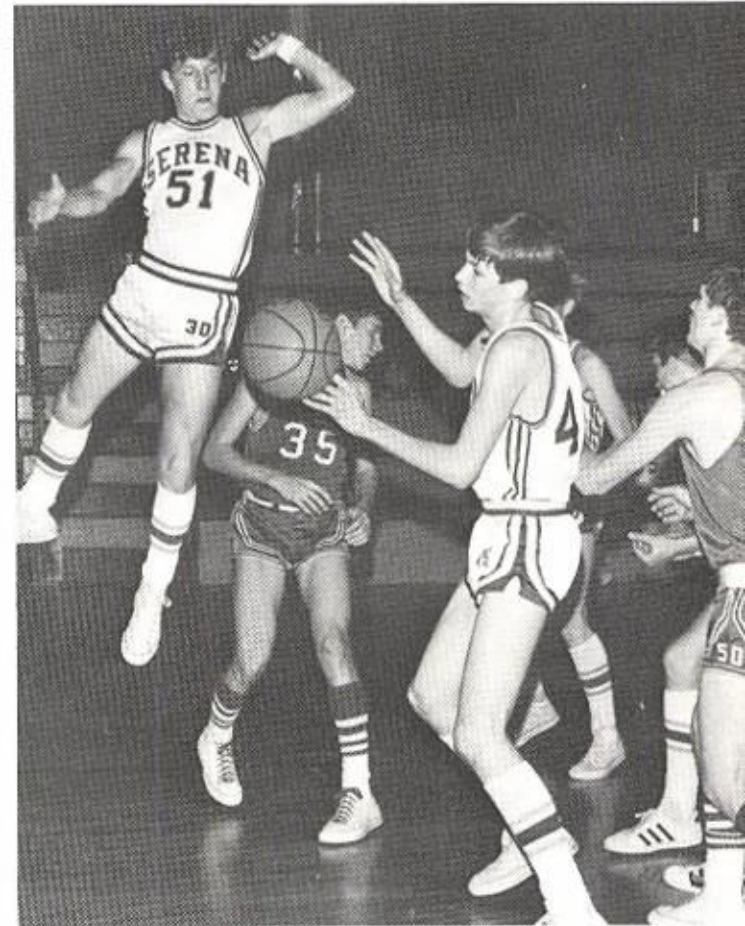

A gigantic effort.

The Fresh-Soph Team, coached by Norman Neuges, played an exciting season. First in December they won their own Round-Robin Tourney. Then in January they went on to win the Little Ten Tourney. Finally in February they captured the Little Ten Conference trophy, which marked the end of their season.

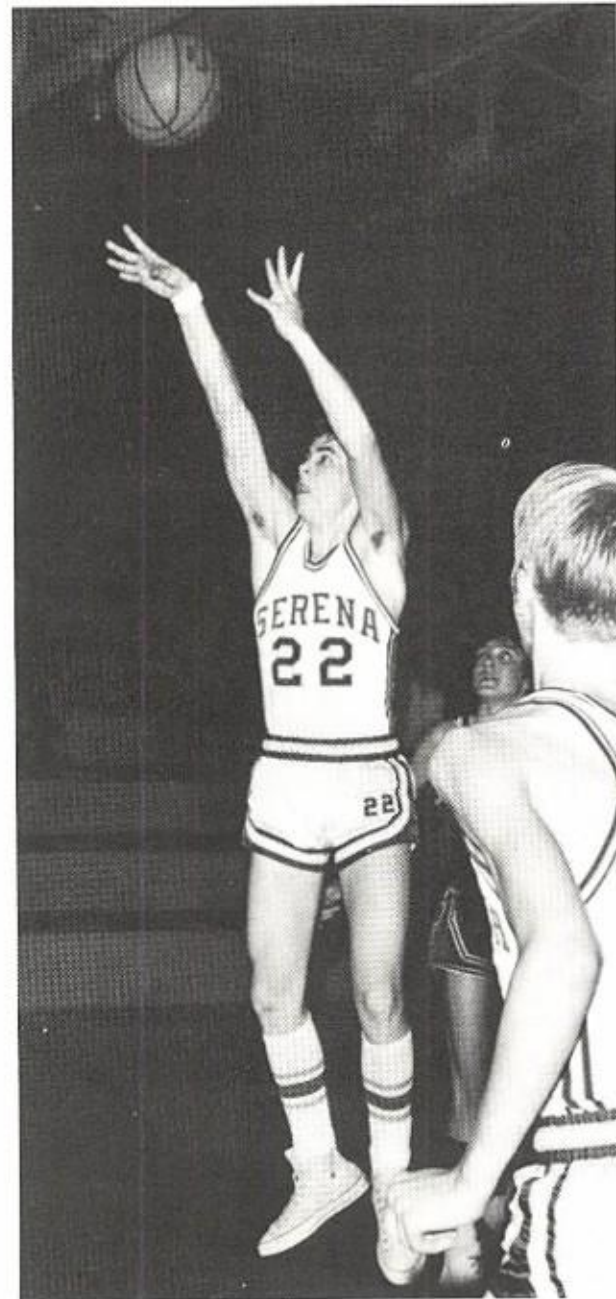

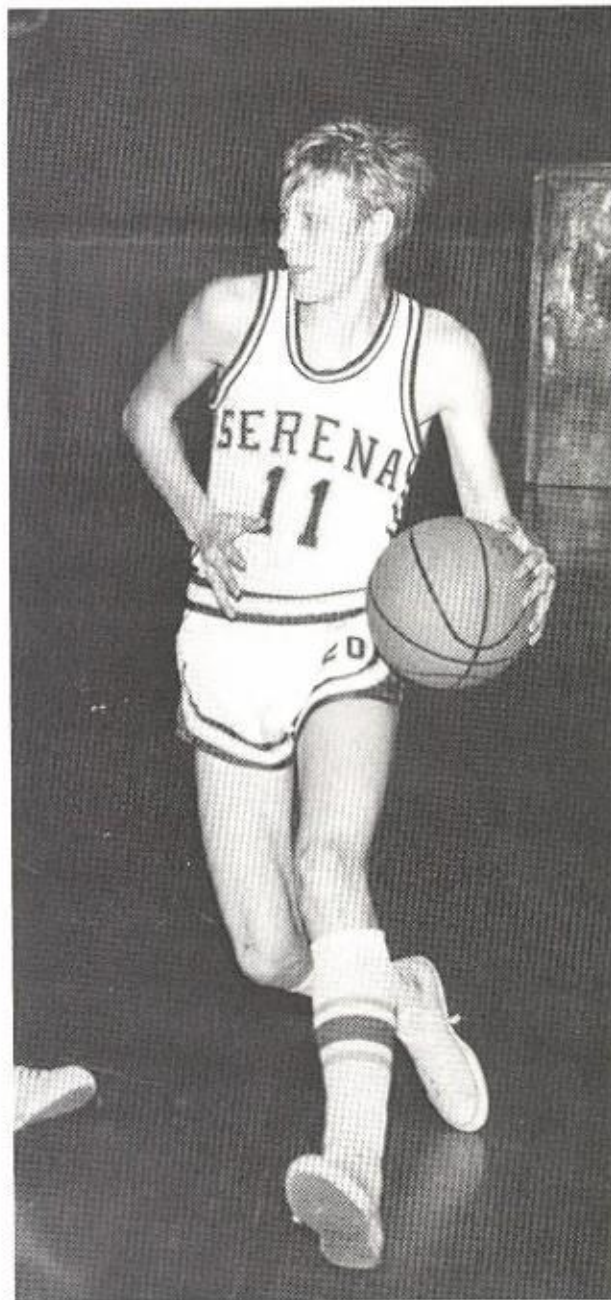

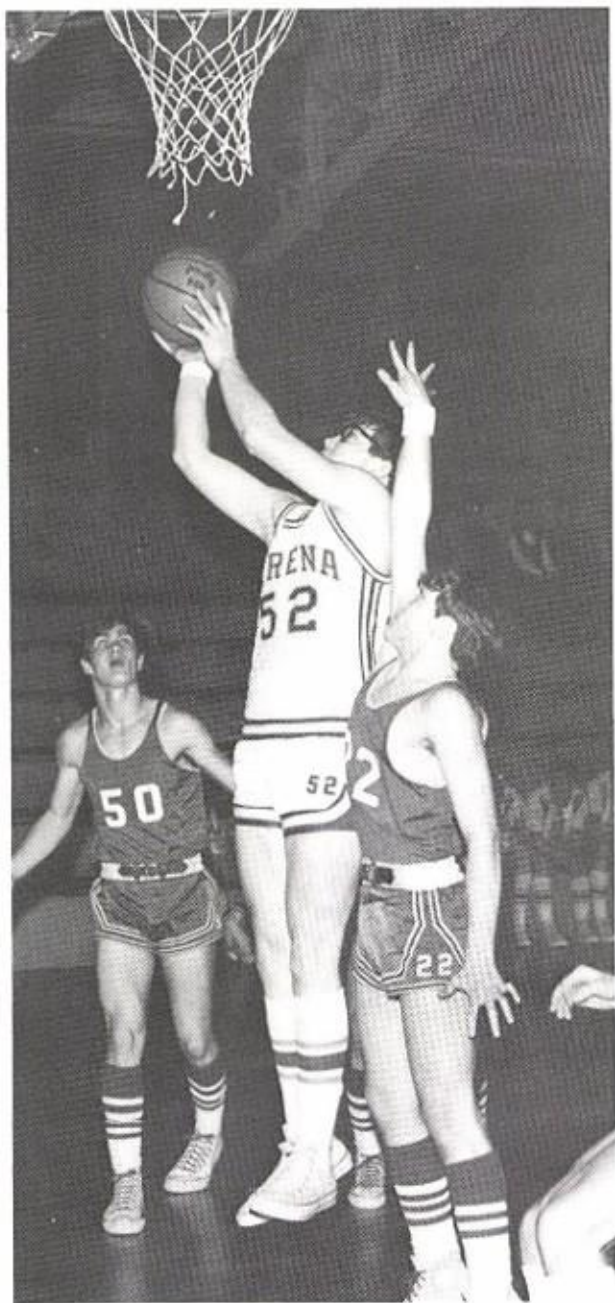

Overtimes were common in tournament play. Seconds before the final buzzer, Serena hit the tying basket or their opponents tied. But in the three minutes of overtime, the Huskers charged through with the winning points. Pressure brought out their extra drive for success.

During overtime the fans became one body cheering the boys on. The crowd focused hopeful eyes on the floor--waiting for the winning swish. Stomachs churned and hands shook during the three minutes. The fans were behind the team, and the team never let their fans down.

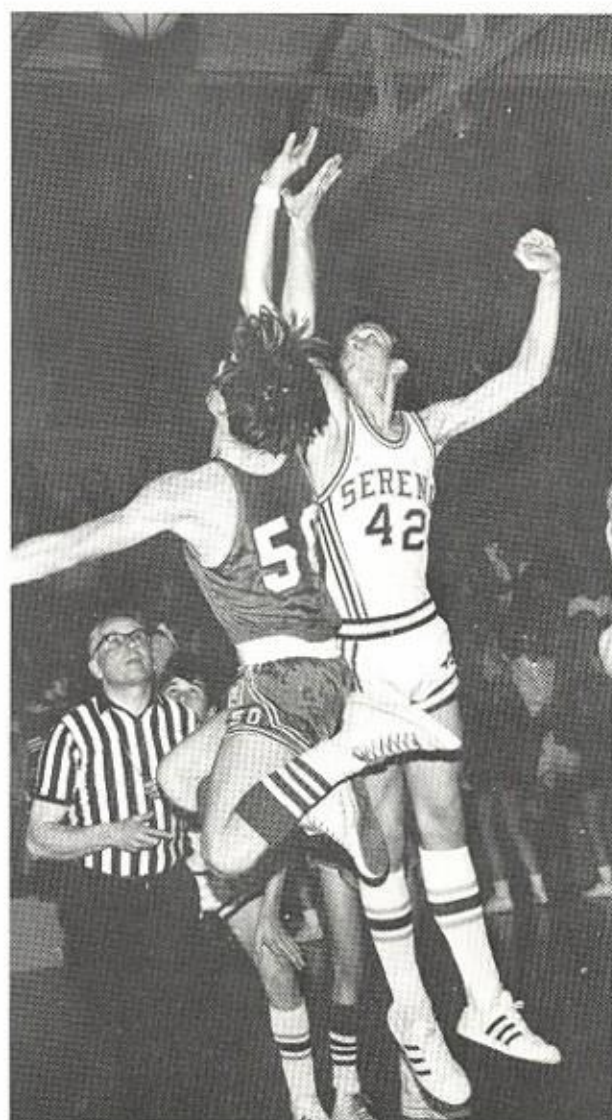

A single point or a single defensive block should not be overlooked. Both of these can mean the difference between a win or a loss. All the players contributed to the team's success. The outlook appears good for the future Varsity Team.

So there!

Freshmen 15—4

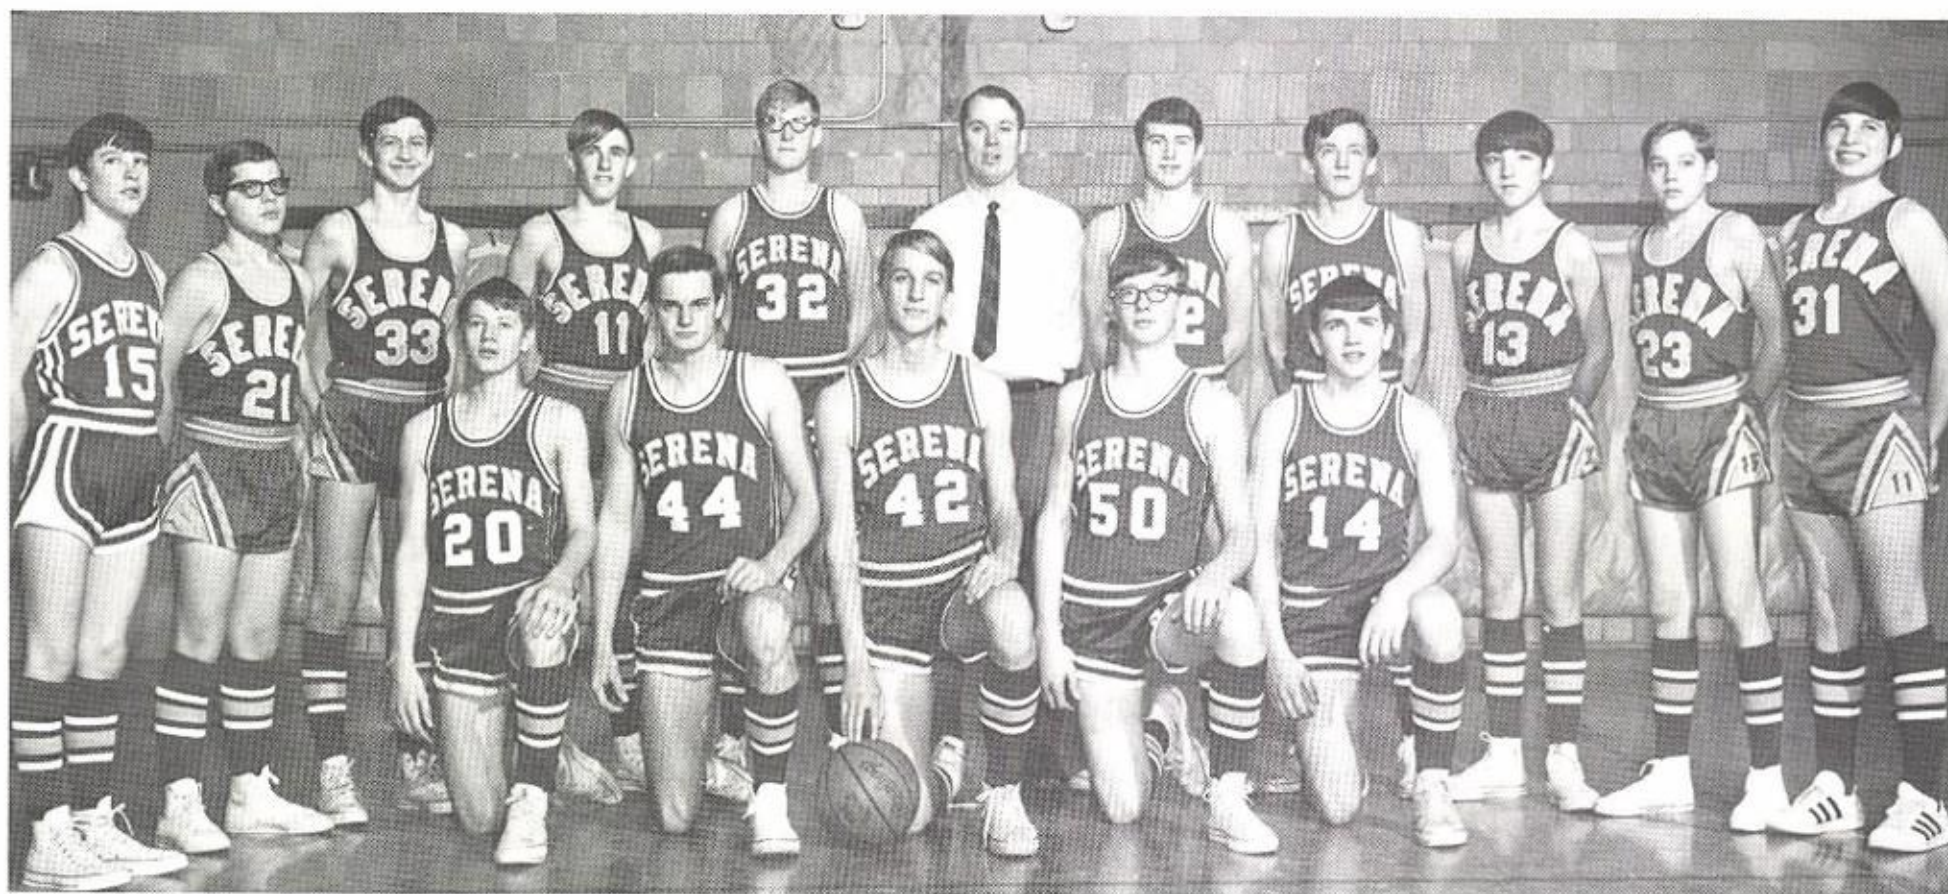

"Higher, Brian, higher!"

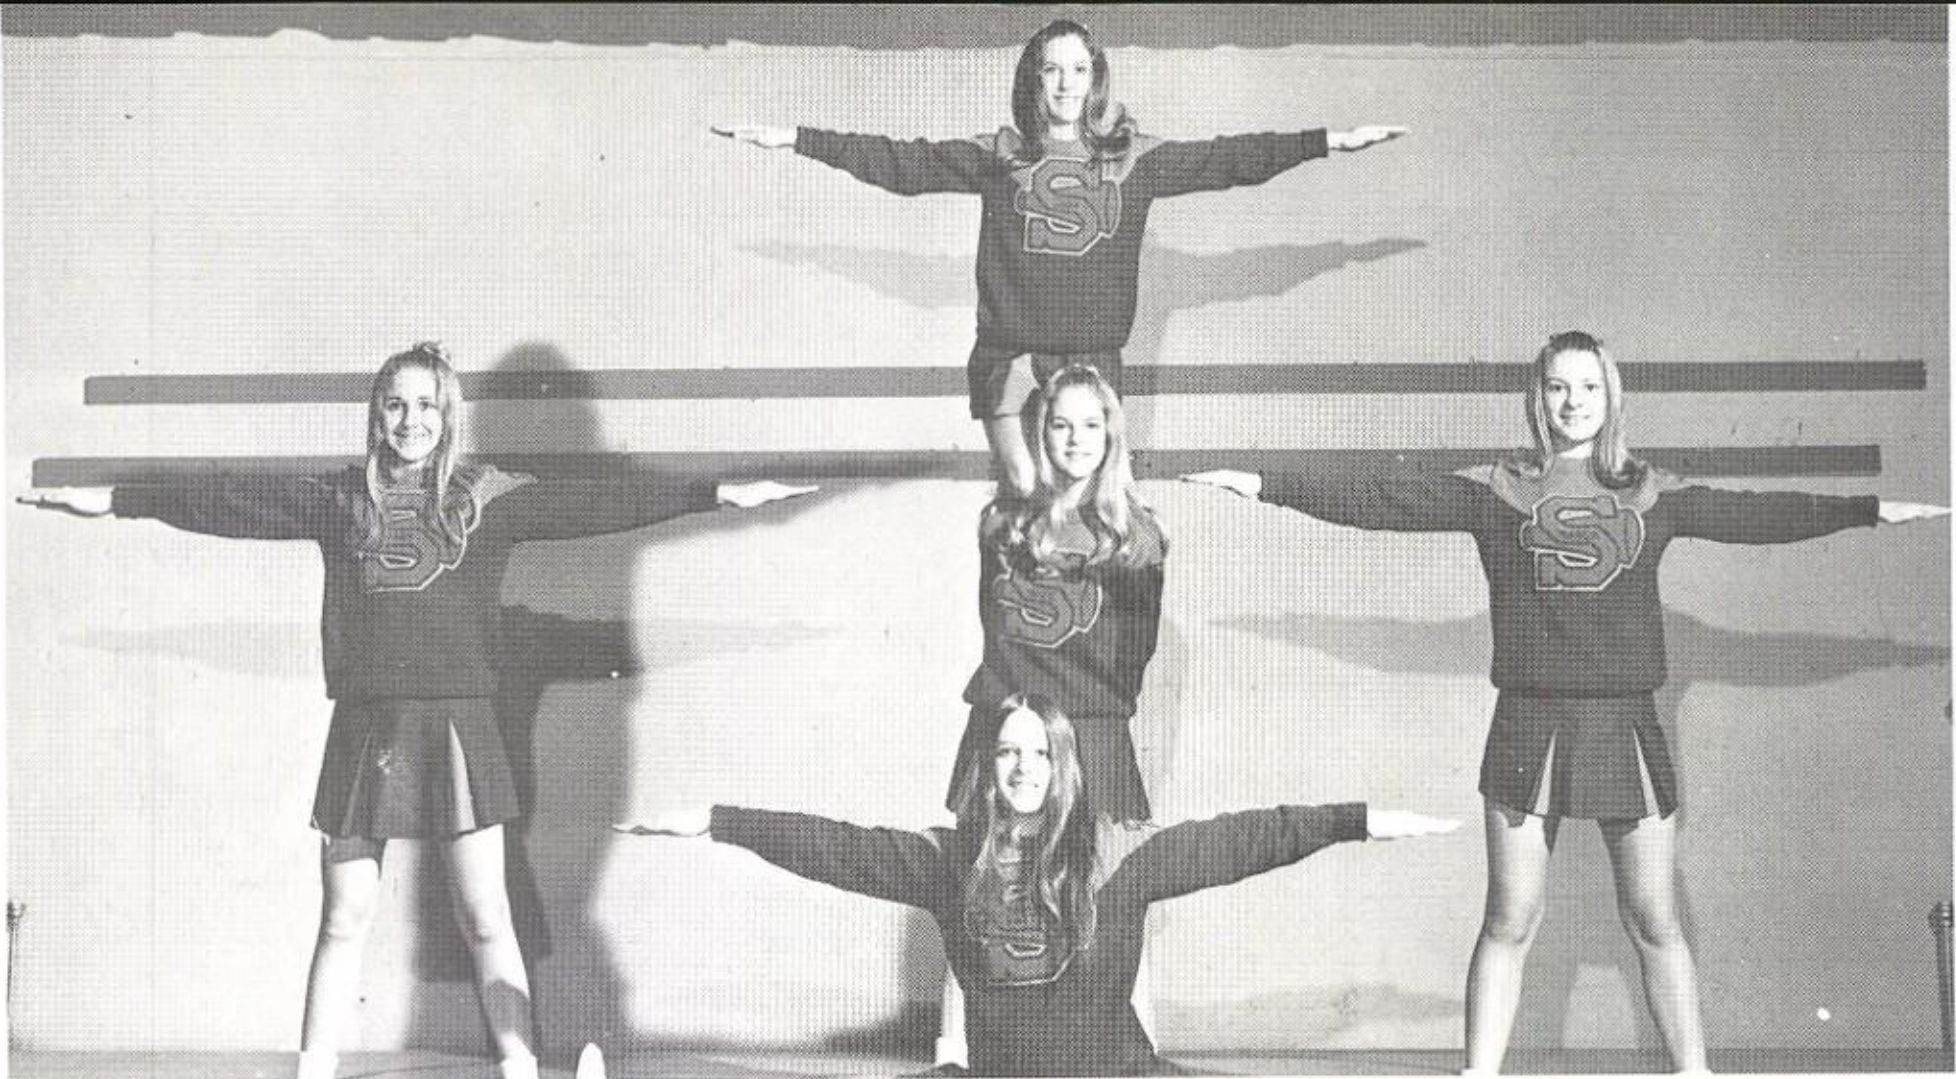

The Swan Dance?

The Freshman team also had a fine season. Their record of 15--4 speaks for itself. Kenneth Larson, Brian Wright, Kevin Foreman, Dale Skelton, Mark Adams, and Mark Mathesius were all top players. Coach Norman Neuges foresees a successful season in 1972 for these future sophomores.

J.V.'s Develop

With anxiety and anticipation we five J.V. cheerleaders waited for the coming season. From the first exciting game to the very last one, we learned to work together, share ideas, cooperate, and strive for the school spirit.

When the season was about half over, our new uniforms finally came, and we wore them with much pride and dignity for our winning team. Though it was hard to keep our chins up and smiling all the time, we did our best to represent Serena proudly. We hope next year's J.V.'s have as much fun and many friendships as we have experienced.

"Halftime--and all is well?"

The J.V. and Varsity get together to show you what they can do!

Wrestling

1971 was the third year for the Husker "Grapplers." After a busy year of matches and tournaments, the team ended with a final record of 4--11. At the Braidwood Invitational tournament, the Serena Wrestlers took home a total of one fourth place, two thirds, one second, and a championship in the 119-lb. class by Brian Woods. The team finished fourth in the tournament. With the loss of only one senior, Tim Woods, the future for the wrestling Huskers looks good indeed.

Chorus Wins a "Superior"

Good choirs in small schools are rare. But with a great deal of perseverance and hard work, Cleon Fagot, director, created just that. Part of the choir's busy schedule this year included the annual Little Ten Conference Concert, which was held at Malta, and the Christmas Concert. Also the chorus received superior ratings in both performance and sightreading at the Class C contest at Chenoa. The highlight of the year, though was the F. Melius Christiansen Festival which was held at Serena in honor of that late composer and conductor, and whose son, Olaf Christiansen, was guest conductor. However, as all else slowed to a halt at the end of the year, Serena's choir worked on to get ready for a spring tour which took them on a week of fun and scheduled singing through Southern Illinois and Northern Kentucky. Another "record" year for Serena High School.

Track

The track team had only three upper-classmen during the 1970-71 season. Competing against boys two and three years older made frequent disappointments for the freshman and sophomore members of the team. The highlight of the season came in the Little Ten Conference Frosh-Soph Meet at Hinckley when the mile relay team of Scott Shockley, Ken Larsen, Steve Richards, and Paul Finley set a new conference record, lowering the mark by more than a full second.

The F. Melius

Christiansen Choral Festival

Mr. Anderson--Festival Manager

On May 1, the Fine Arts Department of Serena High School hosted the F. Melius Christiansen Choral Festival in honor of the late director and composer's 100th birthday. There were five attending choirs: Wood River, West Aurora, East Rockford, Ottawa, and Serena High Schools. Each choir sang four songs after which the choirs massed to sing five anthems by the famed F. Melius. The guest conductor, Olaf C. Christiansen, son of the late F. Melius, directed the massed choir.

F. Melius Christiansen, born 1871 and died in 1955. But as long as a cappella choirs sing in America, as long as his music speaks to our hearts, King Christian goes on . . . King Christian is alive.

Brenda Wing designed and hand block printed the festival programs.

Cheryl, we are going only for one week!

Band Has Good Year.

Under the direction of Mr. William Brown, the Serena band had another successful year. From playing pop tunes and the school song at basketball games to playing "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" at the Christmas Tea, we proved Serena should be proud of its band. This year we also presented a program to the surrounding grade schools. Later, at contest, everyone was disappointed to have missed a superior by one point. Again some of us band members participated in the solo and ensemble contest and in the Little Ten Festival. Soon it was Memorial Day; and we band members, wearing overlays and hats, played together for the last time in the parade at Sheridan.

Student Council

The Student Council of 1971 spent the year rebuilding their treasury and maintaining the student lounge. A committee of boys was assigned each 19th module to restore the lounge to presentable condition. During Christmas vacation the Council organized a group of volunteers to shampoo the rug and scrub the lounge clean. They sponsored skits before Christmas and other assemblies throughout the year. Hat Day was a big success along with the Halloween Dance. Members and other students enjoyed themselves while earning money.

This Council ended its '70-'71 school year by presenting two $100.00 scholarships to two graduating seniors. Any senior continuing his high school education was eligible, and the final two were chosen exclusively by the Student Council representatives. The Council was elected by homerooms, one person per room. Officers were elected the spring of '70. SEATED clockwise at the round table are Rick Battles, Treas.; Greg Hitchins, V. Pres.; Vicki Marshall, Pres., Joann Larson, Sec.

Freshmen Try Harder

From the first staggering glimpse to the last final exam, high school has been a period of adjustment for especially freshmen. It would be hard to forget the first day when confused freshmen struggled with their lockers and underwent the teasing from upperclassmen. As the year progressed, Kathryn Beich introduced us to the cold, cruel world of financial planning while soc-hops introduced us to each other. When the year ends there are few regrets and freshmen say they'll "See you next year."

Sophomores Drive Forward

The class of 1973 worked steadily and hard to expand our treasury to our thousand dollar goal. Throughout the year we sold concessions at several basketball games, sponsored two bake sales, and hosted a sock-hop. We also sold pizzas and joined the other classes in magazine sales. Our biggest project turned out to be selling paper napkins. Highlights for the class of '73" were the receiving of our class rings and starting driver education classes, which meant we were closer to that coveted driver's license.

Throughout the school year '70-'71 the junior class worked not only for themselves but also for the class of 1974, 1973, and 1971. We started the year with great effort, selling sweaters to warm the cold freshman during their first year. Another project was for the sophomores. We had a psychedelic dance to show them where it's at. For the seniors we worked hard at everything in order to provide the best possible prom. To show the school and community how swell the class of '72 is we sold candy and passed some of the sweetness around. Finally we held a pizza sale to spice-up our faculty.

Class Officers

The seniors spent most of their time counting the days until graduation. Once again they were given lounge privileges during study halls. Now they all know how to play euchre, crazy-eights, and seven-up. Without much effort the seniors succeeded in selling concessions, choosing robes, keys and flowers, and working their way toward the grand finale: GRADUATION DAY! Senior Class officers for 1971: Jim Oakes, Pres.; Vicki Marshall, Treas.; Greg Hanley, V. Pres.; missing: Patti Vermeland, Sec.

Senior Court

The Senior Court is a class-elected body set up to maintain order during senior privileges. Because of the outstanding class of '71, the court had to take little action concerning disobedience. STANDING: Greg Hanley, Jim Oakes, Vicky Mason, Mr. Hurt, adv. and Rollin Varness. SEATED: Mr. Keane, adv., Mrs. Marshall, adv.; Jane Tirevold, Linda Sheldon, Sec.; Dave Strafford, Pres.; Mr. Thompson, adv.

We wish to thank Mrs. Hilda Anfin-sen, our advisor, for her help and patience. A special thanks to John Morrow, who helped out in a pinch.
